

removed from their context and given new meaning. People who read the Bible should be familiar with first century believers. Not knowing or understanding their culture, habits, lifestyles, and giving practices can affect your wallet.

The first mention of freewill giving is in Exodus 35:5, 21, 29 and 36:5-6 dealing with temple upkeep. These verses address church needs and is where the New Covenant leadership and pastors should look when trying to find examples on how to support building funds for church upkeep.

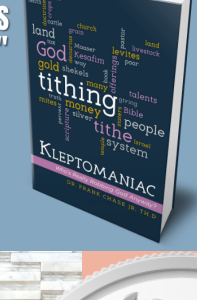

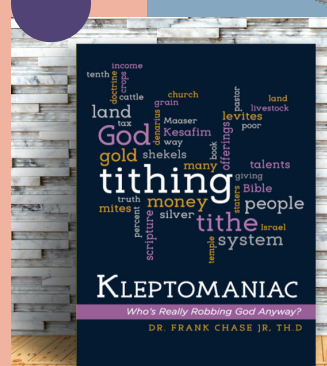

intelligence can see the doctrine of first mention in Exodus Chapters 35 and 36 is the principle for New Testament giving. The observations point out that God built the temple on freewill offerings before the mandatory tithe was established under the law in Numbers chapter 18.

receive tithes. So who gave pastors the authority to takes tithes of money, which is not in the Bible. Money cannot be tithed only food. Don't fall for lies. Don't drink the koolaid.

When God says, bring all the tithes into the storehouse, it should be understood that He's talking about crops, herds and flocks. If the priests brought the whole tithe into the storehouse as God requested, there would have been enough food in his house. The food was for Levites on temple duty.

archeological quest to uncover the true meaning of biblical tithing to end all false teachings that have robbed millions of their wealth in the biggest ponzi-scheme ever manufactured in the annals of biblical and church history.

Kleptomaniac: Who's Really Robbing God Anyway is a 30-year culmination to unfold a tale of suspicion, intrigue and questions about monetary tithing. The message of this book is that ten percent of a person's income does not represent a biblical tithe. The biblical tithe has always been edible items.

God Anyway began with a probing question. The orthodox tithe in Israel is often misinterpreted and commuted to cold hard cash because of a lack of understanding of the history, culture, religious practices and customs of the Hebrew people. Will a man rob God?
